Good afternoon,

As we prepare to begin online learning on 3/23, I wanted to clarify a few things:

- Students do not need their textbooks to participate in class. We are designing and implementing instruction using other resources that teachers will make available through our online platform. Therefore, there is no need nor urgency to return to campus to collect textbooks.
- If you plan to return to campus to collect other items from dorm rooms and/or lockers, please begin the process by visiting the OnCampus parent portal and completing the 2020 Spring Travel Registry Form.
- Once you have completed the form and you receive approval to return to campus, you can coordinate your visit—Benjie Colberg will coordinate boarding student visits and Drew Hyche will coordinate day student visits.

Again, there is no urgency to return to campus. Your student's belongings will be kept safe and they will not require textbooks for online classes.

Many thanks for your cooperation and flexibility,

Ron
